his side, but he intends to play as much tournament golf as he can next year as he strives to work his way back up the world rankings from a mind-boggling 896th.

"The good thing is because I have been away for so long, everything I do here I keep accruing [ranking] points," Woods said.

"If I play halfway decent, I will keep climbing quickly."

Former PGA Tour winner Brandt Snedeker says a "Duff Clayton" Woods' wedge game from outside 65m in the Bahamas but felt his golf swing needed fixing.

"In round No 1, you saw him get to the 18th tee, his misses all day had been to the left," Chambliss said.

"So you are going to do everything you can to make sure that the toe doesn't boat the heel to the golf ball.

"Tiger Woods would have known that and he couldn't do it, he couldn't stop it.

"And yet here he is playing a more conservative route later on in the week off of the 18th tee, not going with the driver, and still not able to find the fairway. He'd miss left, he would miss right."

Chambliss was also unimpressed by Woods' chipping, the low point being a chunked chip at the par-five sixth on Sunday which led to a double-bogey.

"Any four clubs that you can use this
